As Announcement is Made Of Conference in Dublin Between Wendell Willkie And Prime Minister De Valera, London Admiralty Reveals Loss of Nine British and Allied Merchant Ships During the Week Ending January 26

R. A. F. MAKES 35TH RAID ON BREST PORT

BULLETIN

London, Feb. 4—(.P)—Wendell L. Willkie, returned to London from a flying trip to Dublin to see Irish Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, was received today by King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

By the Associated Press

Wendell L. Willkie flew to Dublin today to confer with Prime Minister Eamon De Valera on the subject of Irish ports and bases repeatedly sought by the British to combat the German counter-blockade—even as RAF bombers twice attacked the Nazi u-boat center at Brest, France.

Willkie said he planned to ask De Valera questions "and talk to him across the desk" regarding neutral Eire's bases.

So far, De Valera has flatly refused permission for either British planes or warships to use Irish territory in operations against Germany's sea attacks, which recently have turned the waters west of Ireland into a so-called "graveyard of the Atlantic."

Permission to use bases would extend the range of British defenses 200 to 300 miles farther west.

Willkie emphasized, however, that he would "not attempt to influence De Valera in any way."

After lunching and talking at length with De Valera Willkie was silent on the subject of their conversation beyond saying it dealt with "the position of Ireland and the international situation."

Three hours after his arrival, he flew back to England, where it was expected he would meet King George VI and Queen Elizabeth later in the day.

In London, the Admiralty announced that nine British and Allied merchant ships totalling 33,604 tons were lost "by enemy action" in the week ended Jan. 26.

By coincidence, both Rome and Berlin announced new inroads against British shipping in the apparently quickening war at sea.

Hitler's High Command reported 43,000 tons sent to the bottom—29,000 tons by a German warship "operating overseas;" 11,000 tons by a Nazi u-boat, and 3,000 tons by German dive-bombers.

Premier Mussolini's High Command reported a spectacular raid by Italian torpedoboats last night against "an enemy convoy" strongly escorted by cruisers and destroyers in the Red Sea.

"Attacking decisively," the Fascist High Command said, "our vessels launched a total of nine torpedoes, of which seven hit ships.

"Our units, despite strong enemy reaction, succeeded in getting away and returned to their base unharmed."

The RAF's one-two raid on Brest was the 35th on the German-occupied port at the west gateway of the English channel.

Returning pilots said both attacks were successful.

The RAF assault followed a night of intermittent raids on Britain by lone German planes which dropped incendiary bombs on London and explosives at two places in East Africa.

FORMER POST IN CABINET MAY BE GIVEN TO LAVAL

Admiral Jean Darlan Returning to Vichy With Message From Former Vice Premier Containing Conditions Upon Which He Will Accept Post

PRESSURE INCREASES

By the Associated Press

Vichy, France, Feb. 4—(.P)—Admiral Jean Darlan left Paris today to bring back to Vichy a message, presumably from former Vice Premier Pierre Laval, with whom he conferred yesterday on Laval's conditions for returning to a position in the French government, informed sources here said. He was reported to be traveling alone.

Darlan, French navy minister and envoy from Chief of State Philippe Petain, talked with Laval several hours yesterday in a move by the Vichy government to meet increasing German pressure that Laval be returned to a position of authority.

Friends of Laval declared last night the deposed vice premier, once heir apparent to Petain's post, would want even broader power than he held until his dismissal from the cabinet last Dec. 13.

They said he would ask for:

1. An important cabinet portfolio, possibly his former job of foreign minister.

2. Full charge of France's negotiations with Germany, which have made little progress since December, and a definite agreement within the French government on what constitutes collaboration with the Reich.

3. Control of all information services in France and of the police.

4. Changes in Petain's national council of 51, set up last month.

German sources were understood to have taken the view no collaboration could be accomplished without Laval.

Berlin, Feb. 4—(.P)—The German press omitted today editorial discussion of the French political situation, but the commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland emphasized the existence of a victor-and-vanquished relationship between Germany and France.

Relations between the two countries, it said, rest on the dual bases of the armistice treaty and the Hitler-Petain conference at Montoire last October.

PROBE ASKED OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Harrisburg, Feb. 4—(.P)—The legislature was asked today to investigate Pennsylvania's public schools—and the State Department of Public Instruction—to determine if there are any subversive or communistic teachings.

The inquiry was sought by two Republican members of the house from Blair county—Charles A. Auker and George E. Jones—who also proposed that the textbooks of Dean Harold Rugg of Columbia Teachers College be banned in this state.

They said these books belittle historical events in American history.

The investigation would be conducted by a six-man joint legislative committee. It would be given $15,000 for expenses.

A variety of legislation to revise old age and mothers' assistance benefits upwards came into the house, including a bill to provide $100 a month pension for persons over 60.

The pension would go only to un-

SUDDEN CRISIS IN CUBA HALTED BY DISMISSALS

In Series of Firm Measures President Batista Places Under Arrest Chiefs of The Army and Navy on Charges of "Seditious Attitude"

PALACE BARRICADED

By the Associated Press

Havana, Feb. 4—President Fulgencio Batista, in a series of firm measures he said were "forced" on him to keep order, placed under arrest today the chiefs of Cuba's armed forces whom he had ousted a few hours earlier on charges of a "seditious attitude," and suspended constitutional guarantees for 15 days.

Soon afterwards the strong-man president formally announced a "deep crisis which endangered the stability of the republic has been overcome, and order and tranquility prevail again."

Batista held personal control of the army for several hours after ousting its chief, then turned that command over to Col. Manuel Lopez Migoya. He already had appointed new chiefs of the navy and national police in steps he declared necessary to "repress" the alleged sedition and "reestablish public order."

Protective measures included the mounting of machine-guns and barricades at entrances to the presidential palace.

Those arrested were Col. Jose Pedraza, army chief since Dec. 6, 1939, and National Police Chief since Saturday, and Lieut. Col. Angela Gonzalez, ousted navy chief.

Lieut. Col. Jesus Gomez Casas was appointed to the navy command and Col. Manuel Benitez, former commander of Matanzas province, was made national police chief.

In a statement to the Cuban people, Batista asserted the "seditious attitude" of the arrested army and navy leaders arose from his dismissal last week of Col. Bernardo Garcia as police chief and his transfer of several navy departments to civilian control.

Garcia's "resignation" was announced Saturday and the police command added to Pedraza's army duties.

The president said Garcia also had been openly seditious in his attitude toward the government.

An official announcement said the Cuban congress would meet within 48 hours to "act according to circumstances."

Previously, the congress had been scheduled to hear today a presidential message requesting an income tax and approval of a new law "for defense of democracy," which was said to be intended to check totalitarian propaganda and activities.

INTIMATE CONVERTS SECURED

Amid Clashing Opinions on Danger of An Invasion of The United States by Triumphant Axis, House Republicans Fighting the Lease - Lend Measure, Seek to Enlist Democrats In Drive to Write in Major Modifications

VOTE ON AMENDMENTS THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Washington, Feb. 4—(.P)—Amid clashing opinions on the danger of an invasion of the United States by a triumphant Axis, House Republicans fighting the British aid bill sought to enlist Democrats in the drive to write major modifications into the legislation.

As the second day of debate opened on the measure, Rep. Fish (R-NY) intimated that some converts already had been made. For he told reporters he believed Democrats would sponsor some of the opposition's restricting amendments.

There were reports, too, that Wendell L. Willkie would recommend modifications when he appears before the Senate foreign relations committee on his return from London next week. The opposition camp reserved judgment, however, until the character of the proposals were known.

The House amendments mentioned by Fish are aimed at circumscribing the powers which the bill would give President Roosevelt. Among them are proposals to limit British aid to one year, instead of two; to hold the program's cost to $2,000,000,000; and to prohibit the transfer of American naval vessels or their use as convoys.

Fish predicted that a sizable

PREFECT OF PARIS POLICE IS ARRESTED

Berlin, Feb. 4—(.P)—Roger Langeron, prefect of Paris police, has been arrested on "serious charges," authorized Germans declared today.

They did not say what these charges were.

(At Vichy, a temporary prefect was named for Paris police and the official order listed Langeron as "unavailable.")

Authorized sources said they would offer no comment today on the French situation as development by Darlan's visit to Paris. One source usually in the know regarded it as "extremely likely" that Darlan saw both Otto Abetz, Hitler's ambassador to Paris, and Laval, in addition to Fernand De Brinon, the Vichy government's representative in Paris.

MAIZE CONFIRMED

Money to Meet Expenses for Farewells For Selective Service Groups During Year to Be Provided From County and Boro Funds

BUDGET AND TAX RATE FOR YEAR ARE UNCHANGED

City Fathers, at February Meeting, Give Final Approval to 1941 Financial Setup Among Other Important Matters Considered

REPORTS RECEIVED

At the February meeting of the Warren borough council, held last night in the municipal building, the 1941 budget of $130,000 was given final approval and the tax rate for the year was set at 16 mills, the same figure as last year.

Action on the budget and tax rate were among many important matters to be brought before the body at its regular session.

The budget, as adopted last night, was substantially the same as that presented tentatively a month ago. The only change was a reduction of $500 in the appropriation to the Board of Health, cutting the total from $130,500 to $130,000.

In addition to this amount, a total of $45,100 is budgeted for special funds, the major portion going to the sinking fund to retire the bonded indebtedness of the borough.

Council members last night also fixed the commission of the tax collector, Harry S. Johnson, at one-half of one percent on all taxes collected prior to January 1, 1942, and four percent on those collected after that time.

One of the first actions taken by council at the meeting was the approval of an appropriation of $1.50 per man for those called from the county in the Selective Service.

Upon motion by Chairman J. H. DeFrees, of the police committee, the advertising for bids for a new automobile for the department was authorized. These bids will be opened at the March 3 meeting.

The fire committee, headed by H. S. Hampson, also was authorized to advertise for bids for a chassis and body for a new fire truck. This truck is to be assembled by the fire department. These bids will be opened at the next meeting, also.

In connection with the fire at the municipal garage on January 17, Chairman R. M. Krebs, of the finance committee, reported that an adjustment of $1,350.97 had been made with the insurance company. This was approved by council. In addition, the payment of $65.35 to a mechanic at the garage for personal tools damaged

HOMICIDE CASE IN CLARION TO COME UP

Clarion, Feb. 4.—(.P)—A hearing will be held tomorrow for Frank D. Derdolph, 43, Youngstown, O., garage mechanic, on a charge of murdering his 12-year-old cousin, Ronald Lee Wentling, at the Wentling home near Knox last Dec. 27.

Derdolph previously had pleaded guilty at a preliminary hearing to a charge of slaying the boy's father, Reuben L. Wentling, the same day. District Attorney W. P. Geary said Derdolph contended the shooting of the boy was accidental.

Council Agrees to Match Contribution of Commissioners to Assure All Trainees Dinner and Gifts Before Leaving For Induction Into Army

MORE MEN SUMMONED

Assurance that appropriate farewells will be tendered the Warren county young men who are called for military service under the Selective Service act during 1941 was given last night when members of the borough council, at their regular meeting, approved expenditure of $1.50 for each man who is called during the year.

A like contribution by the county commissioners will provide a fund of $3.00 per man to finance the cost of dinners, farewell gifts, etc., for those who are called for training.

22 INJURED IN EXPLOSION OF BIG LOCOMOTIVE

Passenger Engine on Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad Blows Up as It is Being Pushed Into Yards in Industrial Section of City

JUST FINISHES RUN

Denver, Feb. 4—(.P)—At least 22 persons were injured, some seriously, by the explosion of a large Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad passenger locomotive today as it was being pushed into the railroad yards in the southwest industrial section.

Several of the persons injured were motorists who had stopped at the intersection of Thirteenth street and Osage avenue for the train to cross.

The boiler and cab of the locomotive were lifted from the undercarriage, hurled 60 feet into the air and thrown upside down on an empty railway express car. Before landing, the boiler and cab arched over the locomotive immediately behind.

Force of the blast blew windows and bricks from the Western Elaterite Roofing Company plant, 25 feet from the tracks, and swung parked automobiles out of position.

Some members of a loading crew working on a track 50 feet away were injured.

Frank Hobbs, an employe of the roofing company, described the explosion as "an earthquake and a powder plant explosion rolled into one."

The train was heading southward from the Denver union station to the D. & R. G. W. Burnham yards. The engine that exploded was one of the largest used by the railroad. It still had steam up after completing its run in from Salt Lake City.

Behind the large locomotive was another locomotive, two railway express cars and two empty passenger cars.

After landing atop the first railway express car, the locomotive

Bi-partisan sponsorship was announced on bill to create state defense council.

BULLETIN

Harrisburg, Feb. 4—(.P)—Administration bills to continue emergency taxes for relief for another two years were introduced in the House today. They were estimated to raise $184,575,500 for two years.

Harrisburg, Feb. 4—(.P)—As the General Assembly began consideration of a $542,208,727 budget submitted by Governor James.—largest in Pennsylvania's history—an investigation was proposed in the Senate today of Chairman Leon Rains, of the State Athletic Commission.

"I charge here that gambling interests more or less control boxing in Philadelphia with knowledge of Rains," asserted Senator H. Jerome Jaspan, who sponsored the resolution with Senator Anthony J. Disilvestro, both are Philadelphia Democrats.

The resolution, which was sent to committee, asserted that the coming fight in Philadelphia February 17 between Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis and Gus Dorazio, of Philadelphia, was "in flagrant violation" of the duties of the commission, "because of unequal ability of participants."

Jaspan said the resolution was directed solely at Rains.

As the House marked time until 1 p. m. Rep. Robert E. Woodside, Republican floor leader, announced he and Rep. Leo A. Achterman, Democratic floor leader, would sponsor a bill to create a state defense council with authority to set up local and district groups to prepare for possible emergencies.

The governor, in submitting the budget for the last two years of his administration, promised the legislature a tax reduction program if conditions improve in the next two years "even if a special session for such purpose should be necessary."

For the present biennium ending May 31, James recommended $537,000,000 but relief costs boosted actual expenditures to $608,000,000.

This left a deficit of about $71,000,000 but the governor said it would be absorbed during the next two years through anticipated increase of $25,000,000 in tax revenues and "continued governmental economy."

Republicans in the House received from the administration immediately the tax bills reenacting for two years the Earle emergency levies.

The G. O. P. minority said efforts would be made to have these bills introduced by majority Democrats, explaining the taxes were originated by the previous Democratic administration.

While the machinery of enacting the budget started slowly, but sure-

GREENVILLE MAN STILL MISSING

Greenville, Feb. 4—(.P)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents have entered the investigation into disappearance of Victor Deissler, 43-year-old refrigeration equipment manufacturer, Police Patrolman William Shosser reported today.

Searching parties, meanwhile, patrolled the countryside in a hunt for some clue to fate of the Deissler Machine Company president, fearing all the while that he had been beaten, robbed and kidnaped from his office.

Deissler has been missing since Sunday night when he went to his office to deposit $600 in a safe. County Detective A. C. Barnes said the safe had been opened, papers strewn over the office, and that bloodstains led from Deissler's desk to an outside doorstep.

The manufacturer's missing automobile was found yesterday at Youngstown, O., the key in the ignition lock. A green pin-stripe suit, with one sleeve torn, pajamas and a brief case were in the machine. A woman living nearby

Organization of "Screwballs" Thows Its Membership Open to the Nation at Large

Angola, Ind., Feb. 4—Screwballs of America, Inc., threw its membership open today to the nation at large—or at least to whatever part of it might consider itself eligible to belong.

The society, formed about two years ago, incorporated yesterday under Indiana law.

Papers carried the provision that any city enrolling 25 "certified screwballs" should be given a charter.

The ambitious little fraternity was founded on the principle that many human beings are created somewhat balmy.

Lawyer Kenneth Hubbard, who has the title of recording screwball in the mother chapter, said that persons who wanted to join might qualify very simply—and he used the word advisedly.

"They have to do something a little off center to be eligible," he explained.

Hubbard and Charles M. Griffin, a garage owner, founded Scrawballs in December, 1938 under informal circumstances. They were talking over coffee in a restaurant when an acquaintance came in.

The order now boasts about 160 members and meets four times a year. Griffin is president—or "chief screw."

The membership rolls list at least three celebrities. Senator Raymond E. Willis (R-Ind), Rep. George W. Gillie (R-Ind), and Charlie McCarthy.

PLANES SCARCE WHEELER SAYS

Washington, Feb. 4—(.P)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said today he had "absolutely reliable" information that the army "does not now have a single plane suitable for combat service in modern warfare."

Wheeler declined to disclose his source of information, but declared he is convinced of its reliability.

During 1940, he declared, total war plane deliveries were 2,884, of which he said 2,308 went to Great Britain and other foreign countries and 576 went to the United States army and navy.

He gave the figures in an interview.

Of 639 planes, Wheeler said, not one was suitable for combat in modern war because all lacked either self-sealing gas tanks or sufficient firepower and armor plate.

PLANE FORCED DOWN ON DREAM HIGHWAY

Somerset, Feb. 4—(.P)—A trainer plane, bound from a Trenton, N. J., factory to Saginaw, Mich., was forced down on the broad Pennsylvania turnpike by a snowstorm yesterday.

Pilot Russell J. Purchase, 28, said he circled the highway to "make sure there was no traffic," then landed near a gasoline station and taxied to a parking lot. He and his passenger, Samuel E. Vitale, member of the Saginaw Junior Board of Commerce, were flying the Luscombe ship to Saginaw for use in the Civil Aeronautics Authority training program.

GUARD TO HAVE OWN NEWSPAPER

Indiantown Gap, Feb. 4—(.P)—Pennsylvania guardsmen will read about their activities in their own newspaper during their year's military training at this army post.

A spokesman for ranking officers of the 28th division, who arrived here yesterday, disclosed today that a weekly camp newspaper will begin rolling off the presses about the second week in March.

"It will be instructive as well as entertaining," he said.

The newspaper, in tabloid form, will be distributed each Saturday morning to every soldier. No charge will be made and it will carry no advertising.

As yet unnamed, the paper will be an offshoot of the "Pennsylvania Guardsman," for years the official monthly magazine. The "Guardsman" will be discontinued.

Missing Bomber is Reported Located

Morton Wash., Feb. 4—(.P)—Surrounded by military secrecy, soldiers and state and county officials started today into a thickly-wooded region in quest of a wrecked army bomber that two rancher-woodsmen reported sighting yesterday.

A bomber, with seven officers aboard, disappeared Jan. 16 on a flight from McChord Field. Wash. It was feared, should this prove to be the wreckage, that all seven were killed. The woodsmen said there was no sign of life at the scene.

Major C. B. Overacker, commander of the 73rd Bombardment Squadron, to which the plane and crew belonged, said remains of the bomber probably would be exhumed after all possible salvage.

Col. Walter Peck, operations chief at McChord field, denied flatly to newsmen early today that the big plane which vanished from there was equipped with an army bomb sight. Previously he had expressed belief the craft had carried some type of bomb sight.

ARMY OFFICER GIVES ADDRESS AT CIVIC CLUB

More than 175 men attended the annual banquet of the North Warren Civic Club, held last evening in the North Warren Community House, when Lt. Col. Louis J Lempke, commanding officer of the 395th Infantry, with headquarters at Johnstown, gave an extremely interesting and timely talk on the problems of national defense

Colonel Lempke, who recently returned from Hawaii to accept his present post, paid a fine tribute to the men of the 80th Division in the World War and gave as his main reason for accepting his Pennsylvania post his desire to be more closely associated with men from this division, most of whom came from western Pennsylvania.

He stressed the need for cooperation and unity between the people, government and present army officials He paid a fine tribute to the Reserve Officers' Association, labeling these men as the foundation of the present defense plan.

Col. Lempke was introduced by Toastmaster George E. Cowden. At the table with the speaker were many reserve officers from this district.

Civic Club President Donald K. Burghardt and his efficient corps of officers were highly complimented for their efforts in making the annual banquet so successful.

ERIE MEMBERS PAY VISIT TO DEMOLAY GROUP

Warren Chapter, Order of DeMolay, meeting last evening in the Masonic Temple building, was visited by eight active members of the Erie Chapter, accompanied by "Dad" Wilson, who will be remembered by many majority members of the local unit.

He gave a very inspiring address concerning the organization and its benefits to young men.

Robert Griewahn, master counselor of the Erie Chapter and state visitation chairman, offered remarks that were of interest and benefit to the membership. He stressed the conclave to be held in Pittsburgh on June 26, 27 and 28, further details of which will be made known later in the season.

The Warren Chapter was invited to attend a meeting for conferring of the initiatory degree in Erie on March 1 and for the DeMolay Degree on March 15, at which time 35 members will be honored.

Last night's meeting concluded with a discussion period and refreshments served by the social committee.

PROPOSE BOOST IN MINIMUM FOR RURAL TEACHERS

A minimum annual salary of $1,000 for 16,300 rural school teachers was urged upon the general assembly at Harrisburg today by the James administration, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The governor, in his budget message, submitted a new appropriation of $3,000,000 to put the increase into effect.

Warren county school authorities said today that the proposed increase would affect approximately 150 of the 228 teachers in the county schools outside Warren borough. These teachers now get a minimum of $100 per month—some for eight months and others for nine.

The Department of Public Instruction said that 8,000 teachers in the state receive the $100 minimum for eight months and 8,300 for nine months.

HOT WATER HEATING BY GAS PREFERABLE

This part of the world has never been so clean in its history. While refined, manufactured soap is only 300 years old and the bath-tub less than a full century, the present annual sales of soap, modern porcelain enamel bath-tubs and automatic gas water heaters mount into big figures. This type of water heater makes available to the home-owner with even a modest income the luxury of a 24-hour service of crystal clear hot water, economically, and at no greater effort than the turning of the hot water faucet

The basic advantage of gas for water heating is its flexibility. And with gas, there are available types of heaters to accommodate all water heating needs Therefore, it is unnecessary for a home-owner to adjust his hot water requirements or usage to a limited range of capacities as is the case with equipment operated by other fuels.

Money to Meet Expenses for Farewells for Selective Service Groups

the farewells for the Selective Service trainees, attended last night's council session, with Ed Lowrey, chairman, outlining the proposed plan for honoring the county's young men. He reported that the county commissioners already had agreed to pay half of the cost, provided the borough council would cooperate.

With Mr. Lowrey at the meeting, representing the Citizens' Committee, were Ben Kinnear, vice chairman, and Bruce H. Trussler, treasurer.

It was suggested that both the borough council and county commissioners be represented on the finance committee of the citizens' group and Council President Forrest Waite announced he would appoint the borough's representative.

The approval of council was given unanimously after a motion to cooperate in the project was presented by Councilman D. W. Lewis.

The next group of Selective Service trainees will leave Warren on February 24. This group will consist of 17 men, nine from Local Board No. 1 and eight from Local Board No 2. A meeting of the Citizens' Committee will be held within the next few days to make plans for a farewell program.

Although the appropriations by the council and county commissioners does not include members of Company I, who will leave later this month, the Citizens' Committee is making plans for ceremonies in connection with the departure of the national guardsmen for a year's training at Indiantown Gap.

With other organizations already making plans to entertain the members of Company I it has been stated that the Citizens' Committee's part in the farewell program will consist mainly of providing an escort to the train on the day the men leave for camp.

Company I is to be mobilized on February 17 and will go to camp tome time within the next ten days.

Members of Warren's local selective service boards today announced that classification questionnaires have been mailed to additional men in the county. Local Board No 1 yesterday sent questionnaires to those with order numbers from 296 to 346, inclusive, while Local Board No. 2 sent them to men with numbers from 426 to 475, inclusive.

Men Buyers to Act As Store Managers At Metzger-Wrights

During the absence of W. H. Wright, manager of the Metzger-Wright Company, the men buyers of that store will act as managers each for a week's duration, it was announced today. They will act as general manager, settling all questions and deciding on the store's policy.

This week, L. C. LeVan, well known buyer of houseware and appliances, will be in charge.

Mr. LeVan has been with this store for the past 22 years, coming to the store in 1919 when the housefurnishings department was located in the former Hoffman block which stood where the Kresge store is now located.

Later his departments were moved to the present building and have been moved from one location to another in the store until they are now located on the remodeled fourth floor.

OPENING 5 DAYS STARTING FRIDAY FEB. 7TH "GONE WITH THE WIND" AT THE LIBRARY THEATRE, WARREN, PA.

By right, a report of "Gone with the Wind," which opens for 5 days starting Friday, Feb. 7th at the Library Theatre, should be merely the statement: The greatest picture ever made—in every detail.

There are so many superlatives about this picture which David O. Selznick has so finely produced and Victor Fleming so humanly and amazingly directed, that one approaches the task of reporting the event of the picture's showing here with a fear that words are wholly inadequate and that the limitations of space prevent praise for everyone concerned.

"Gone with the Wind" is the most faithful filmization of a novel the screen has ever attempted. Every word, character and event in Margaret Mitchell's dramatic story lives on the screen. It contains undoubtedly the most beautiful and breathtaking Technicolor photography conceivable.

"Gone with the Wind" gives the screen a dignity it has never known before. The picture will be remembered as long as men and women can still think and speak. The current engagement of "Gone with the Wind" presents the picture in its complete version, exactly as shown in previous roadshow engagements—nothing cut but the price.

Last Day to See "North West Mounted Police" at the Library Theatre

What is being hailed as the brightest galaxy of stars ever brought together for one motion picture will be seen in Cecil B. DeMille's new and thrilling epic, "North West Mounted Police," produced in Technicolor today and Tuesday at the Library Theatre, with Gary Cooper and Madeleine Carroll in the starring roles, and other such starring players as Paulette Goddard, Preston Foster, Robert Preston, Akim Tamiroff, Lynee Overman, George Bancroft, Lon Chaney, Jr., and Walter Hampden rounding out the cast.

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS REGULAR MONTHLY MEET

Routine reports of the superintendent, nurse, dental hygienist and medical examiner occupied the attention of the school board last night at its regular February session.

The report of the medical examiner and the superintendent revealed that the "flu" epidemic has not struck Warren schools as heavily as it has struck in other communities throughout the country, and the number of illnesses is not much greater than in non-flu years. The percentage of attendance during January was normal—95 per cent.

A letter from the firm which is to supply the metal fence which will partially enclose Russell Field was read. The company stated that delivery will be made in April or shortly thereafter, the material to be 84-inch sheets of 18 gauge material as originally specified.

Superintendent John G. Rossman reported that the incoming seventh grade at McClintock has been transferred to Beaty, and Mrs. Lawrence, a teacher at McClintock, also assigned to Beaty. At the Home Street school, because of the load distribution, the incoming sixth grade has been transferred to Jefferson. Four teachers remain at Home Street which has a second semester enrollment of 109.

One group of six Lacy pupils has been sent to Beaty to eliminate a small teaching group.

The building and repairs committee recommended that the services of an architect be employed to draft plans and specifications and that bids be received for the purpose of considering the changing of boilers in the heating plant at Beaty, due to the exceptional high cost of heating the building. This recommendation was approved. The committee also secured approval of a contract with Rasmussen and Gutzler, low bidder, to remove the gas water heater and tank at South Street building and install a heater and tank that will make it possible to heat the water with the furnace when the furnace is in operation.

The Moose Club was granted the use of Beaty gym Wednesday to present an entertainment for the students, and the Warren County Teachers Association was given the use of one room at the high school, when night school is in session.

Carl Danielson was employed on a probationary basis as janitor of Home Street, succeeding Norman W. Johnson, who has resigned.

All members of the board were in attendance as were the superintendent, solicitor and clerk.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Feb. 3—Miss Willoh Brainard was hostess to the C. O. Circle Tuesday evening. Mrs. Maxwell Warner was program leader and also led the devotional period, reading scripture and offering prayer.

Mrs. Mabel Dallas was the guest speaker and gave a review of an address given by Miss Pearl Lund, a missionary, who recently returned from Korea. Miss Louise Edin and Mrs. Neal Scott gave readings. Miss Mae Edin acted as accompanist for the group singing. Miss Louise Edin presided at the business meeting. Plans were discussed for a union meeting with the Women's Society for Christian Service, at which they hope to have Miss Marian Derby, of Frewsburg, for speaker. Miss Brainard and Mrs. Burt Schoonover were appointed as the committee. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

Miss Miss Margaret Hamilton, while looking through some old papers recently, found the commission for sheriff granted her grandfather John Hamilton. The commission, which was granted by Governor Snyder, and signed by James Trimble, deputy secretary, was dated October 31, 1814, and appointed him as sheriff of Venango county. Another interesting paper was an army map of Texas, dated 1844. Miss Hamilton mailed this to the postmaster of Houston, Texas, and received by air mail, a letter inclosing an account of the paper clipped from a Houston paper, saying the map would be given to the historical society, or framed and kept in the post office.

Mrs. Frank Dorn entertained at a dessert bridge party Thursday evening. Three tables of hurricane bridge were played with prizes going to Mrs. Traverse Stohlberg, Mrs. F. A. Schoonover and Mrs. James Pelton. Other guests were Mrs. R. S. Cumming, Mrs. Arthur Cody, Mrs. D. I. Mickleson, Mrs. Charles White Mrs. Burt Schoonover, Miss Mary Holden, Mrs. A. A. Grant, and Mrs. Scott Stuart.

Preceding the regular meeting of Girl Scouts, Monday evening, the girls received instructions in knitting by Mrs. A. A. Grant. The girls are making squares to be made into an afghan, and would like contributions of odd scraps of yarn.

Robert Conklin, who has conducted a grocery store for several years, is selling out his entire stock, as he has been called in the draft, and will close his place of business.

Mrs. M. L. Johnson, Mrs. David Siggins and two small children left Friday morning to spend the next two months in Florida, near Miami.

James Frank, of Walton, N. Y., recently spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. Kit Frank and family.

Lloyd Smith, who had enlisted did not pass his physical examination in Pittsburgh, and has returned to his employment in Harrisburg.

Charles Swanson, a student at Penn State, is spending the mid-semester vacation at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cody, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Abbott and daughter Helen and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cody, of Grove City, went to Buffalo Saturday to attend the wedding of Richard Hensler and Miss Ruth Cody.

Miss Kathryn Keslar, home economics advisor, is conducting a project at the building on home management and practical experience in home making. The girls will live at the house for three weeks. The girls with their respective places in the home are as follows: Cynthia Nelson, assistant cook; Marjorie Danielson, hostess; Helen Drake, waitress and housekeeper; Margaret Porter, cook, Betty Hultberg, who has been ill will join the group later.

The girls entertained the officers of the senior class with their advisor, at dinner Thursday.

New equipment which has been added to the house, includes a refrigerator, and new linoleum, and through the kindness of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Niles Andersen, a piano has been placed in the livingroom.

F. A. Schoonover has been a business visitor in Harrisburg this week.

Secretary of Navy Knox

Not one man in 100 knows William Franklin Knox. Everybody knows Frank Knox is secretary of the navy. Yet they're the same person—christened William Franklin, always called Frank.

Republican Knox is one of the key men in the New Deal's arms setup. Born a Bostonian, he turned mid-westerner. A soldier in two wars, he now runs the navy. Found his education and his wife at Alma (Mich.) college. Soldiered with the Rough Riders in '98, in France in '17.

He was Landon's running mate in '36. His Chicago Daily News lambasted Roosevelt's domestic policy, but FDR nonetheless called him into the unity cabinet. Serves as the navy's man in OPM, along with Knudsen, Hillman and Secretary of War Stimson.

190TH FIELD ARTILLERY ARRIVES IN MISSISSIPPI

Camp Shelby, Miss., Feb. 4 (AP) Pennsylvania's 190th Field Artillery tackled their first job of setting up quarters today on the first day of a year as an active fighting regiment.

The 51 officers and 868 men from central and western Pennsylvania become part of the 73rd field artillery brigade which also includes the 166th field artillery of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

The 190th, commanded by Col. Samuel B. Wolfe of Lewisburg, Pa., comprises batteries from Lewisburg, Sunbury, Bellefonte, Altoona, DuBois, New Castle, Lock Haven and Punxsutawney. The unit, a 155 millimeter howitzer unit, arrived in four troop trains which left Pennsylvania Saturday.

After a week of orientation, the Pennsylvanians will join the 141st Field Artillery of New Orleans opponent of the Keystone State units during the civilian war.

Great Britain spent $1,300,000,000 for war materials in the United States in 1940, and expects to spend $3,019,000,000 in 1941.

YOUNG SPEAKER PREDICTS TOTAL VICTORY IN WAR

Sheffield, Feb. 4 Addressing a large crowd in the high school auditorium last evening, Dr. Nicholas R. Doman, youthful native of Hungary, onetime member of that nation's army and authority on central European affairs, declared that the end of the present war will find the world either completely totalitarian or completely democratic.

The speaker, appearing here under the auspices of the local Rotary Club, based his conclusion on the belief that there will be no negotiated peace ending the war, that the conflict will go on until it has been settled on the field and that one side or the other will score a complete victory military, economic and political.

Allan Scilly, past president of the Rotary Club, introduced Dr. Doman to last night's audience and acted as chairman of the question forum which followed the lecture.

Mrs. William Matie is a patient in the Kane Community Hospital, where she recently underwent an operation. Her friends will be glad to learn she is recuperating satisfactorily.

Sewing will be the project at this week's meetings of the local Red Cross chapter, Mrs. Wm. Rawson, chairman, announces. All women of the community are invited to attend the sessions, which will be held in the organization's headquarters in the bank building, from 1 to 5 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

Mrs. William Hoffman is a patient in the Kane Community Hospital. She was admitted to the institution Sunday night to be under observation the next few days.

C. I. O. ANSWERS HINES

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4 (AP) The CIO State, County and Municipal Workers of America today claimed the source of its difficulties with State Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines was that "he wants to dominate any union of his employes." Commenting on Hines' plea for a legislative investigation of the union for possible "Communist activities," the CIO group charged the official with "illegal and improper conduct in the administration of his department."

UNION SERVICE IS PLANNED BY MINISTERS HERE

At the regular meeting of the Warren County Ministerial Association, held yesterday morning at the Y. M. C. A., plans were made for a special community service on Sunday evening, February 23, at 7:30 o'clock for those who will start their year of military service at that time.

It was decided that Dr. H. C. Warren, president of the ministerial group, would preside. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. J. A. Davidson, of the First Baptist church. Others who will participate in the service are Dr. T. E. Colley and the Rev. J. C. Wygant. The service will be held in the First Presbyterian church.

It was suggested that the offering be used to purchase testaments for the trainees and members of Company I, who will enter the service at that time.

The committee on cooperation with the Warren General Hospital suggested that each minister provide the hospital with a supply of self-addressed postcards to inform them of members who may be in the institution. A committee composed of Dr. T. E. Colley and Dr. J. H. Clemens was named to confer with the local cemetery association concerning committal services.

Yesterday's program opened with devotionals led by the Rev. J. M. Christy of Tidioute. Mrs. J. H. West, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., reviewed the book, "Green Worlds," by Maurice Hindus. The Rev. Miller I. Harding presented the paper on "Outstanding Events and Personalities in Christian History," covering the period from 1600 to 1650. The closing prayer was by the Rev. Wayne Price, of Kinzua.

THAT BACKYARD GARDEN

The presence in the mails of a seemingly bumper crop of seed catalogues does more than signify the approach of spring. It carries the comforting assurance that backyard gardening in Warren is far from becoming a vanishing art.

Along with the catalogues comes the "first comprehensive survey in 21 years" of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, which discloses that supplies of most vegetable seeds are smaller than those of last year.

Made at the request of the National Advisory Commission, the survey says: "Supplies of most kinds are believed to be sufficient for the planting season needs of the United States this year."

Seeds reported in shortest supply are spinach, mangelwurzel, collard, kale, celery, leak, Swiss chard, onion, eggplant, kohlrabi, cauliflower, carrot, nonsweet corn, beet and radish. At the same time the service reports Pennsylvania's 1940 certified seed potato crop of 219,972 bushels exceeded 1939 production by 20 per cent and was second only to the record crop of 1934.

There was a time, not too distant, when homegrown lettuce, radishes, tomatoes, peas, beans and potatoes played an important part in the domestic life of the family. Now, with these garden products inexpensively available the year 'round at even the most unpretentious neighborhood markets, the once assiduously tended tract in the rear of the home is apt either to lie unproductive or to be made over into flower beds.

Warren postmen can testify, however, that backyard gardeners still persist in large numbers, and neighbors are witness to the faithfulness with which they cultivate their plots.

The amateur gardener who chooses to putter with his beets and carrots is, regardless of the monetary value of his crop, not merely dissipating his time or energy. For his garden does far more than provide the family with crisp vegetables. Indirectly, it serves to set the tables of those who compile and print thousands of seed catalogues, it affords nutriment for those engaged in the manufacture and marketing of rakes, spades, hoes and other agronomic accessories—it even provides a measure of sustenance for scriveners who, with the approach of the growing season, are accustomed to utilize the backyard as a subject of raillery.

THE BOY GREW OLDER

In general, we are all familiar with the fact that there are more older people and fewer young people all the time. That's because fewer babies are born and fewer people die.

The 1940 census throws new and clear light on the problem. In 1930 the median age of all persons in the country was 26.4 years. Last year it was 28.9 years. That lusty youngster, the American people, had grown 2.5 years older. The age-group over-65 had added 2,322,491 people in the decade.

So, it seems, we not only live faster, but longer. Which means that we ought to be growing wiser, too.

The committee in charge of the annual banquet of the North Warren Civic Club last evening deserves the thanks of all present for the choice of speaker in the person of Lt. Col. Louis J. Lempke, commanding officer of the 395th Infantry, with headquarters at Johnstown. His message was one of the most informative and timely that has been heard in many months.

Through the co-operation of borough and county officials, the Citizens' committee is assured funds to provide appropriate farewells for Selective Service trainees leaving Warren county during the present year. This is an arrangement that should meet with general approval, since the project will indirectly reach a large number of homes throughout the borough and county during the next eleven months.

Among the questions being heard around Warren quite frequently these days is "How about a celebration on the Fourth?" Well, how about it?

Quoddy Project Now Trains Boys To Take Jobs in Defense Industry

BY BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 4—The $3,000,000 model village which the army built at Quoddy, Me., for a tide-harnessing project that never came off, has become a useful part of the national defense program.

Under direction of the National Youth Administration, Quoddy is serving as a center in which hundreds of young men are being fitted for future roles as producers of war-essential materials.

Within a few days, approximately 1000 young men from New England, New York and New Jersey will be in residence at Quoddy, to learn trades and acquire skills for various phases of defense protection. The training program is much more elaborate and thorough than anything NYA previously offered. Formerly, a youngster getting an NYA shop course put in only about two months at it and got little more than a grounding in safety habits, shop terminology and so on. At Quoddy, he will get from four months to a year of training, and will come out — if not a fully qualified machinist or mechanic, at least a man who is fitted to start in somewhere as a helper with prospects of developing quickly into a skilled worker.

The long-idle barracks and other quarters are filling up. Each boy as he arrives is assigned to a job in one of the maintenance units. There he does the ordinary work of keeping the Quoddy plant in shape—painting, plumbing repairs, carpentry, electrical repair work, and the like. After about eight weeks he is ready to take a specialized course.

Biggest of the classes is in aviation, where some 200 boys are getting a grounding in air plane mechanics, construction and repair. The boys who take this course must be high school graduates; the course lasts for a year, and boys who graduate will be permitted to take Civil Aeronautics Board examinations for aircraft and engine mechanics' licenses.

Another large class is in the machine shop which will have some 200 boys by March. A third is a sheet metal shop, where slightly more than 100 boys will get six months of training. Courses in agriculture, radio and in the operation of a cafeteria are also available.

Instruction in all of these classes is given, not by NYA, but by instructors from the state of Maine's educational system. This scheme was worked out after conferences between Aubrey Williams, head of NYA, and Dr. John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education. The Maine instructors who do this work will be paid by federal funds.

A significant change in the NYA program at Quoddy is the dropping of the old system whereby a lad at a training center received instruction in various skills, getting a smattering of several vocations but usually not getting any very thorough training in any single one. Emphasis now will be on giving a youngster as complete a grounding as possible in some one line of work.

For the work they do at Quoddy, the NYA boys get paid monthly earnings ranging from $14 to $24. They don't get paid for their schooling, but the tuition is free.

Meanwhile, the maintenance and shop units get a good deal of useful work done. The Quoddy boys recently assembled and installed a complete two-way police radio system for all the highway patrol cars of the state of Maine, for example. CCC trucks used in Maine have also been getting repairs and servicing at the Quoddy shops.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921

There was considerable excitement about the streets this morning when it was rumored that Holt, Penfield and Thompson had struck a well at the head of Glade avenue, which was flowing a foot over the casing. Upon investigation it was found that the tools had run into a streak of sand which contained a large amount of food oil and the hole filled up to a depth of 200 feet in about 20 minutes.

The Memorial Park committee is holding a meeting this afternoon to hear reports of the work accomplished and the plans for the improvements to be made this year.

The Gauta Maria Club held a delightful dance last evening with more than eighty of Warren's younger set attending. Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Jackson chaperoned the party, probably the youngest couple on the floor in spirit.

The audit of the books and records of Warren county which has been under way for the past four weeks under Messrs. Sayson, Hartley and Armstrong is nearly completed. The records are in good shape.

Hauling of chemical wood will be undertaken now that sufficient snow has fallen to afford good sleighing.

In 1931

During the year 1930 eighteen building permits were issued in Warren for new construction, valued at $85,425. The total number of building operations was 43 and the total valuation $146,818.

Among other organizations working for the proposed tariff on oil at this time is the Warren County Council of Republican Women, of which Miss Edith L. McCalmont is the president.

The Youngsville band is now practicing regularly under the leadership of Achille Paladino. The band expects to have a summer of music, with weekly concerts for the benefit of the town.

At the January meeting of the executive committee of the Boy Scout Council, R. W. Mackay and W. S. Clark were elected members of the council.

Miss Jean Robertson has promised to play for the Philomel members Thursday the delightful piano recital which she gave last Saturday before the Mozart Club of Jamestown.

More than 99 per cent of the sulfur produced in the United States is obtained in six operations, one in Louisiana and five in Texas.

• STAMP NEWS

A SPECIAL U. S. 3-cent commemorative honoring Will Rogers, cowboy-humorist, tops the list of proposed 1941 issues under consideration by postal officials. Two designs have been suggested: the Rogers memorial at Claremont, Okla., and a portrait of the movie actor.

Rogers was killed with Flyer Wiley Post in an airplane crash at Point Barrow, Alaska, Aug. 15, 1935. Both Point Barrow and Claremont are bidding for first-day sales.

Rogers was honored by Nicaragua with an issue of five air-mail stamps commemorating his work in aiding the homeless after Managua's earthquake disaster in 1931.

Expansion of new highway postoffice service is expected to follow inauguration of the first service on the Washington, D. C.-Harrisonburg, Va., route Feb. 10. At least two new routes are scheduled to begin service soon and others may follow. Large trucks, equipped to handle, sort and dispatch mail, will provide service to postoffices and postal patrons previously served by star routes. The new highway service routes will be established only in those areas which have no railroad service.

New issues: France, five semi-postals, four "National Aid"; one for victims of war; Germany, three stamps commemorating the first anniversary of establishment of "General Gouvernement" in occupied Poland.

Because the war has cut off the supply of vegetable oils, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia are producing tobacco-seed oil.

There still are 130 log cabin school buildings in Wyoming.

Scrambled Sayings

There are hundreds of phrases we can call to mind to cover various situations, but if these sayings are mixed up with one another, they're a little harder to recognize. See how many of these phrases you can unscramble, completing each into the whole, well-known quotation of which it is a part.

1. To beard the lion is worth two in the bush.
2. True love keeps the doctor away.
3. Sweet sixteen is only skin deep.
4. Too many cooks is the spice of life.
5. The proof of the pudding is another man's poison.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—This town is full of smells.

Not all of them are bouquets.

They insinuate themselves into your consciousness on frosty street corners and in bakers' shops and in the dry ante-rooms of law offices. Sometimes they curl out of the smudge-ovens of those poor scarecrows with icicles on their noses who haunt the doorways leading to the subways, selling roasted chestnuts.

To me one of the finest odors of all, one that you may savor and relish and then savor again, is the smell of new bread. I also like creosote and tar. If you care to go into Chambers street, or in any of the streets of this neighborhood, you can walk for blocks with the gentle fragrance of Zanzibar clove in your nostrils. This is a spice district. From the Dutch East Indies, from Spain, and from our own West Indies have come clove and cassia, ginger, anise and cinnamon. They are brought in by brokers and shippers in hogsheads and delivered to the wholesalers. These wholesalers grind the spices and prepare them for retailer or consumer use. Sometimes, when the wind is right, the whole mystic riddle of the perfumed east seems to lie in a single sniff.

VERY few people are careful enough, or know enough, to select just the right adjectives when describing smells. I do not pretend to use them correctly. Sometimes I say smoke is acrid when probably it isn't acrid at all; not all smoke has a pungent, or a bitter or hot smell. But some smells have a bite, not necessarily unpleasant; and others are gentle and seem to make you aware of their presence by suggestion or inference only, and when you look for them — or sniff hard, should I say—they aren't there at all.

However, when walking in Fulton street there can be no doubt as to one's whereabouts. One's senses play no tricks then. The whole neighborhood seems to ally itself into a grand assault against the nostrils; on a hot midday it will make you reel. Here are thousands of pounds of fish, raw, sharp, blunt, rising in reeking coils of smell. No matter how you hold your breath, it will be there when you breathe again. It clings to the clothes and seems to invade the pores. Some people can't stand it; they gag. Yet one old man who has a shad stall swears he hasn't smelled a fish in 30 years.

WELL, Manhattan is an island, and from its waterfront, from its police stables, from its department stores and candy kitchens come the varying odors of the universe. We have Harlem smells, and delicatessen smells, and the smells of July nights on the great lower East Side. We have the mingled odors of olives and Roman loaves with raw tobacco and Italian cheese. There are the stockyards and the breweries, and the infernal smell of the dye factories; there are the popcorn stands and the Tenth avenue bars, and the early morning perfumes in the crowded lunch rooms which are sometimes overpowering. I got a whiff of a certain very powerful odor once myself when I was quite young, and it changed the whole course of my life. It was printer's ink.

SMART BOLERO-EFFECT DRESS
Pattern 4697
By ANNE ADAMS

Lead off the Spring fashion parade in this very attractive, very becoming frock. It's an Anne Adams original, and simple as can be to make from Pattern 4697. A modified, easy-to-wear treatment of the new longer-bodice trend is shown in the wide waist-yoke that forms one piece in front with the panel. If you make the whole section in spirited contrast, you'll have a delightful bolero-effect. Or, if your fabric is cotton, just an edging of ric-rac looks gay. Let the neckline be either square or pointed, and cut your sleeves in tiny scalloped caps, in short, straight style, or in a curved three-quarter length. A distinctive, individual style!

Pattern 4697 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 2¾ yards 35 inch fabric and 5/8 yard of contrast.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Cole Hill

Cole Hill, Jan. 28—A delightful surprise birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gilmore on Sutton Hill, Tuesday evening, January 14th, it being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Gilmore.

About 40 neighbors came, bringing lovely gifts, several birthday cakes and other good things to eat and spent the evening.

The honored guests were Mrs. H. J. Gilmore, Mr. Joseph Bosco and little Diana Montgomery who celebrated her second birthday anniversary on that day. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Anna Sutton, Mrs. J. L. Henrickson and Mrs. Calvin Montgomery. Then came the opening of all the lovely gifts.

Miss Harriet King of Tidioute is teaching the Sutton Hill school. She has taken the place of James Cable who resigned his position there at Christmas time to become principal of the Pittsfield schools, after the resignation of Claude Blair at Pittsfield.

Steve Druggin and Stanley Kowalski of Sutton Hill have gone to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to take a special course that they need in their work. They are sailors on the great lakes freighter in the engineering department.

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gilmore on Sutton Hill were Mrs. Gilmore's nephews, Paul S. Turner and William Turner and their cousin Clifford Lytle all of Jackson Center, Pa.

Walter Obroleta was also there.

Mrs. Alfarata S. Gilmore of Sutton Hill who has been ill with the flu, is recovering nicely.

Ludlow

Ludlow, Jan. 3—A pleasant evening was spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S Cox when more than forty members of the Wildcat Park Auxiliary held their meeting. Mrs. Albert Carlson, president, conducted the meeting. This organization will meet at the Wildcat Park De Forest Pavilion the last Tuesday of each month. There will be no meeting until April because of the skating season. Later in the evening refreshments were served by the executive committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dunham and family of Chandlers Valley spent Sunday afternoon visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Peterson.

FAT GIRLS

Here's A Tip For You

All over America Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free-from-fat figure that seldom fails to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take ½ teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast; cut out pastries and fatty meats—go light on white bread, potatoes, butter and cream—that's all. Do this every morning. In three weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished. Notice also that you've gained in energy your skin seems clearer, your eyes sparkle with more glorious health—you feel younger in body, keener in mind.

Leading druggists America over sell Kruschen Salts, (a famous English formula) plain or new effervescent —sparkling—pleasant. You can always get it at any druggist. Try one bottle; last 4 weeks and costs but little. If not supremely satisfied, money back. (adv.)

Hollywood Sights & Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—"Mr. and Mrs. Smith." Screenplay by Norman Krasna. Directed by Alfred Hitchcock. Principals: Carole Lombard, Robert Montgomery, Gene Raymond, Jack Carson, Philip Merivale, Lucile Watson. William Tracy, Charles Halton, Esther Dale, Emma Dunn, Betty Compson, Patricia Farr, William Edmunds, Adele Pearce.

A young married couple have an agreement: they'll never leave a bedroom in which they've quarreled until the quarrel is settled. They also believe in telling the whole truth.

This picture opens cleverly in an embattled bedroom, proceeds to a reconciliation breakfast at which the wife asks the question: If he had it to do again, would he marry her?

"Frankly, no," he says. He loves her, but there was his freedom, etc.

So he goes to the office, and there comes, via Mr. Deever (Halton, very funny) the odd news that, because of a technicality, Mr. and Mrs. Smith are not legally married. Mr. Deever takes the same news to the wife. This is all very funny—but the rest of the picture is devoted to Mr. Smith's effort to get Mrs. Smith to remarry him, and becomes increasingly less humorous, despite individual scenes, as the footage unreels.

Raymond, now with dark hair though once blond, is cast as a stiff-necked Southerner wooing Mrs. Smith, and Carson is a good-time Charlie who lures him to a nightclub with a couple girls—Miss Farr and ex-star Betty Compson, both effectively cast for a high spot in the comedy. Montgomery and Lombard add considerable to roles which are not entirely plausible since you have a hunch that Mr. and Mrs. if they weren't in a movie, would have been happily reunited by Reel 3.

"Mr. and Mrs. Smith" is, for all that, a fair comedy. It isn't as funny a piece, however, as "Rebecca" was an intriguing one, nor as "Foreign Correspondent" was an exciting one. In other words, Mr. Hitchcock didn't live up to this corner's expectations.

"TALL, DARK AND HANDSOME." Screenplay by Karl Tunberg and Darrell Ware. Directed by H. Bruce Humberstone. Principals: Cesar Romero, Virginia Gilmore, Charlotte Greenwood, Milton Berle, Sheldon Leonard, Stanley Clements, Frank Jenks, Barnett Parker.

Speaking of expectations — we hadn't any in particular for this one, and had them exceeded. For here, of all things, is a gangster comedy which turns up a couple of new angles even though the "Chicago mob" theme was thoroughly handled in the old gangster film cycle.

Romero is a big shot, out after the nice gal who loves him but doesn't care for the killer in him. The picture explains, and cleverly, how the big shot makes his reputation without living up to it, and how—at the finish—he metes out poetic justice to his rival from the South Side. Three nice tunes by Leo Robin and Ralph Rainger, good support including Milton Berle with his revamped nose, and the Brooklyn kid Clements (who'd make a good foil for Shirley Temple), help lift the picture off the formula track. Sheldon Leonard as the rival gang chief is a menace de luxe.

This is the second of a series of 12 articles on the new bidding rules in the 1941 Culbertson System which will be officially published March 1

BY WM. E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

In addition to counting a singleton as a "plus value" in the honor-trick table, users of the Culbertson System in 1941 will no longer count one full honor-trick for a king and queen in different suits. The combination king-queen-jack in one suit which for years has been counted as one and one-half honor tricks, will now be one-plus honor-trick. Finally, a provision is made for measuring the solidity of a hand and bidding it more aggressively than a hand that is "full of holes."

Culbertson's advice is that when your hand falls barely short of an opening bid, you should count the number of honor cards it contains—any ten-spot or higher card being an honor card. If the hand contains six or more honor cards, a "plus value" should be added to its honor-trick count.

The new value given to singletons, and the count of honor cards, both contributed to the total of three honor-tricks on which South made his opening bid on today's hand. If South had not bid, North could never have doubled the three no trump contract.

Dummy's heart ace won the first trick. The jack of diamonds was led and won by the queen. South exited with a club. The contract was set one trick, the defenders winning two hearts, two diamonds and a club.

The diamond is the hardest natural substance known.

GRACIOUS AFTERNOON STYLE
PATTERN 4698
by Anne Adams

Step out gayly to meet Spring and Summer social activities— in a beautifully cut print dress that makes you look your prettiest. This new Anne Adams style, Pattern 4698, slims, softens and enhances your figure. The well-designed skirt has two panels in front and one in back. And the yokes and neckline are shaped in long, slimming points. See how nicely darts below the yokes and above the waist keep the bloused lines just where you need fullness. Both the short and three-quarter sleeves are attractively shaped with gathers and tucks. Use your own taste as to the belt—make it of self fabric or let gay ribbon ends tie in front. Start this lovely frock now to be all ready for the first new-season invitation!

Pattern 4698 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3⅜ yards 39-inch fabric.

40th Anniversary Occasion of Fete

Russell, Feb. 4—Twenty-five relatives and friends gathered Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Marsh, R. D. 2, to help them celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary.

The time was spent in recalling amusing incidents of the past, with jokes and fun among old friends. Many guests received prizes for the games played. A delicious two course luncheon was served, the bride presiding before a large wedding cake. Many lovely gifts were received by the couple and a purse of money was presented by the group. A well-worded speech by the bridegroom of 40 years ago expressed their appreciation of the honors bestowed.

Those present were Mrs. Arthur Reed, Eugene Marsh, Mrs. Milton Johnson and son, of Busti, N. Y.; Mrs. E. B. Whiting, Mrs. Lester Blair, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nelson, Mrs. Clara Burgett, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Putnam, Lander; Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Venman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Marsh, Akeley; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Houghwot, Russell.

MIRIAM SOCIETY TO HEAR MISS LUND

Miss Pearl Lund, missionary home from Korea, is to be the speaker Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the meeting of the Miriam Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The meeting is to be held at the church and the hostess committee is composed of Mrs. Amanda Anderson, Miss Mildred Anderson, Miss Selma Anderson, Mrs. Hannah Bengtson, Mrs. Hjalmar Peterson, Mrs. Alex Erickson and Mrs. Elmer Bloom. All women of the congregation are welcome.

Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.

Picture of Porto Rico to be Shown

The Interdenominational Mission Study Group will hold its regular busines meeting Friday evening at 7:45 oclock in the Grace Methodist church. Cooperating congregations will be the Calvary Baptist and St. Paul's Lutherans.

A picture of Porto Rico is to be shown in Kodachrome, portraying life in Porto Rico and showing some of the mission projects being carried on there.

From a small and little known island, Porto Rico has become a celebrated tourist place. It is now an army and navy base and thousands of American young men are being sent there. This overcrowded island presents problems of health, education and morals, and, since it is a United States possession and is populated by United States citizens, it is thought that this picture will interest every man and woman concerned with such problems.

A social hour will follow the program.

Bradford Marriage Of Interest Locally

Announcement is made of the marriage of June Lee Hyatt, daughter of Mrs. Bessie Sobel, of Bradford, and Sidney Barto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Barto, of Warren, the ceremony having been performed in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church at Bradford on January 28, Dr. F. D. Miller officiating.

Attendants were Miss Betty Hinckley, of Bradford, and Richard Anderson, of Olean, N. Y., cousin of Mr. Barto.

The bride chose a two-piece navy ensemble of silk crepe, with a matching bonnet style hat trimmed with navy veil. Her corsage was of pink roses, white sweet peas and forget-me-nots and her only jewelry was a three-strand string of pearls. Miss Hinckley wore a two-piece outfit of black silk crepe and a corsage of red roses and white sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home in Congress street. Later the couple left for a month's wedding trip to Corpus Christie, Texas. Upon their return, they will make their home in Bradford.

Mr. Barto is a Warren High School alumnus and his wife is a graduate of the Bradford High School.

Washington Party Enjoyed By Class

Thirty-two members of the Salem Evangelical Willing Workers Class gathered in the church parlors last evening for the monthly business and social meeting, followed by a delightful Washington party.

Mrs. Carl Jones conducted devotions on the theme "Witnessing Through Patriotism", specific topic on the year's thought, "Follow Thou Me Through Witnessing". The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. Fred Rosentrater.

The program-hostess committee then took charge of a Washington tea, serving refreshments buffet style at a table attractively decorated with cherry trees, hatchets and American flags. Hatchet favors were hidden about the room to provide entertainment and familiar southern and colonial songs were led by Mrs. Ivan Rydholm. This provided a humorous vein that added much to the enjoyment.

Members felt this to be one of the most pleasant parties held in many months and attributed its success to the committee headed by Mrs. Rydholm, who acted the role of colored maid to Mrs. George Washington, portrayed by Mrs. Charles Hutchinson. Mrs. Bert Larson was a fine colored mammy and Mrs. Emil Schwab was a guest in colonial costume. Also in costume was Mrs. Harry Thompson, as Dolly Madison. Mrs. Schwab and Mrs. Hutchinson presided at the table.

Therapist Explains Arts and Crafts at The State Hospital

At Monday's meeting of the Woman's Club Art Department, Mrs. J. E. Hazeltine presided and appointed the following nominating committee to choose a slate for the coming season: Mrs. H. R. Robertson, chairman; Mrs. M. G. Keller, Mrs. H. C. Warren, Mrs. J. A. Blomquist and Mrs. Clarence Beckley.

Miss Dorothy Wirt, occupational therapist at the Warren State Hospital, was the guest speaker for this month's meeting, telling most interestingly of her work at the institutinn.

She explained that arts and crafts meet the primitive urge in men and that the creative and artistic side gives activity, holds interest and makes adjustments for the mentally ill. A valuable craft, she said, is block printing, since it teaches the patients to think, the proper use of English, neatness and responsibility.

Weaving was mentioned as one of the most valuable crafts, as it can be regulated and graded to meet the needs of larger groups of men and women. This craft uses color as an appeal to the emotions and is one that includes exercise. Marionettes, Miss Wirt explained, are also a good craft and may be divided into stage and scenery making, play writing, music, the making of the dolls and costumes and the final pleasure of putting on the show for the other patients. In conclusion, she said that arts and crafts hold the patients' interest, gives them satisfaction and makes them feel accomplishment in their work.

She exhibited work done by the patients, the pieces including wood carvings, metalcraft pieces, needlecraft, block making, lace work and weaving.

During the tea time which followed, Mrs. Norbert Peterson and Mrs. Vance Weld presided.

The next meeting of the department is on March 3, the last for this season, and will include election of officers and "Art Education in the Junior High Schools" by Mrs. Leslie G. Fobes, instructor at Beaty school.

True Meaning of World Day of Prayer Is Explained by Official; Date Is Feb. 28

Announcement has been made that the annual "World Day of Prayer" observance will take place February 28 in Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Many persons have confused this observance with the work of the Interdenominational Mission Study Group, and to clear up possible misunderstandings, the following article has been prepared by an officer of the "World Day of Prayer":

Anything in this day and age which can remain meaningful and grow more so as it binds the nations of the tragic earth into a common purpose, creating a common mind among mankind, holds a special significance.

Since 1887 Christian women of all denominations have been observing on the first Friday in Lent the World Day of Prayer, and each year the observance becomes more widespread and more significant. Last year 51 different countries united simultaneously on that day in a plea for world peace.

The local observance is sponsored by the Federated Missionary Society, which was organized in 1922 when funds were so sorely needed to support the Union Colleges in the Orient, and there seemed no organization in Warren just fitted to take up its task. Mrs. Clare Crary headed the committee in that year which perfected the organization of women of all denominations, who each year since have planned and carried out a fitting observance on this first Friday in Lent.

Each year a different country becomes responsible for the preparation of the program. This year the service is of peculiar significance, as it was written by the Shanghai World Day of Prayer Committee, composed of Chinese, Japanese, Americans, English and others. Last spring over 5,000 copies were mailed out to leaders in 51 countries so that they might be translated, printed and distributed; thus the same program is to be used in all lands on February 28. Half a million programs have been ordered for the services to be held all over the United States.

The local chairman of the World Day of Prayer observance is Mrs. Richard Hansen; vice chairman, Mrs. W. F. Henry; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charles F. Sill. A committee meeting is being called by Mrs. Hansen on Thursday evening of this week.

Layden Quits At Notre Dame To Become Pro Grid Czar

Signs Contract For Five Years At Twice His Salary As Coach

Chicago, Feb. 4—(AP)—Professional football has a new boss—scholarly 37-year-old Elmer Layden—and Notre Dame is looking for a new gridiron coach.

Layden accepted a five-year contract at $20,000 annually yesterday as commissioner and resigned as head coach and athletic director of the institution where he was an All-America halfback, one of the famed "Four Horsemen" 17 years ago.

The Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C. C. S., president, accepted Layden's resignation, but issued no statement as to his successor for the job.

Several former Notre Dame stars already have been mentioned as likely candidates—Dr. Edward Anderson, Iowa; Buck Shaw, Santa Clara; Jimmy Phelan, University of Washington; Jack Meagher, Auburn, and Jimmy Crowley, Fordham.

Layden said he was "deeply indebted to my alma mater for the years of consideration and cooperation I have received as a student, athlete and coach."

"It is with regret that I leave the university," he added. "The future welfare of my family influenced my decision."

His salary at Notre Dame was reported to be about $10,000.

The National Football League and subsidiary circuits have been seeking a prominent sports figure for several months to rule the sports as Kenesaw M. Landis rules baseball.

Irish football teams under Layden won 46 games, lost 14 and tied three during his seven years at the helm.

Muskingum Mentor Takes W. & J. Post

New Concord, O., Feb. 4—(AP)—Dr. Robert N. Montgomery, president of Muskingum College, announced today the resignation of "Stu" Holcomb, director of athletics and head football coach for five years.

Holcomb has accepted a position at Washington and Jefferson College in Washington, Pa., as head football coach, track coach and assistant director of athletics.

Expect New Squabble Between Landis And Major League Clubs

New York, Feb. 4—(AP)—Backstage struggles in baseball over rules and regulations sometimes seem drab business to the average sports fan.

Sometimes they are, but the apparently technical law-making is the warning rumble before such volcanic eruptions as Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis freeing 90 players owned by Detroit, or making Pitcher Rufus Melton a Philadelphia Phil instead of a Brooklyn Dodger, or keeping Bob Feller with the Cleveland Indians.

Right now there is another squabble stirring between some of the major league clubs and Landis over a new ruling that a minor league player purchased by a big league club while subject to the baseball draft can not be returned to the minors on option unless waivers are obtained.

The ruling and the question of what could be done about it were expected to come up for discussion today at the National League's annual schedule meeting.

Landis' order varies drastically with the rule adopted long ago by the clubs themselves that a player could be returned to the minors three times without getting waivers.

The practical effect of the new regulation is this:

Cincinnati's world champion Reds bought a player named Charles (Chuck) Aleno from their Birmingham farm. He is a good player. He might be worth $30,000, maybe more. But he is a third baseman. The Reds have a very able third baseman now named Bill Werber. So they probably expected to send Aleno to some Class Double-A club like Indianapolis for a year's seasoning. If they still want to do it, they will have to ask for waivers by the other major league clubs. If the Phillies, or the Cardinals, or some other club should put in a claim, the Reds would have to turn him over to that club for the waiver price of $7,500, or withdraw the waiver request and keep him on their own roster. The Reds have 38 players on their squad now, but must cut down to 25 players by May 15.

Landis' side of the dispute is that every player capable of holding a job in the majors ought to have the chance—if not with one club, then with another. And of course, he's dead set against major league clubs controlling players in the minor leagues anyway.

HONOR ROLL
Elks

Pete Juliano 226
Christensen 215

Although idle last night, the Tasty Bakery gained ground in the Elks Exalted Rulers League as its nearest rival, the Style Shop, dropped four to the third-place National Transit.....The Texas Lunch took a more firm grip on the first division with a sweep over the Crescent Florals, while the New York Restaurant moved up to fifth place by taking four from Rich's Atlantic Station..... Pete Juliano, with 226 and 624, took good care of the high marks for the evening.

The Millers halted the Yergs momentarily last night by taking one point, but the first third champs went on to take three points.....The Millers' stellar Tom Armstrong rolled 209 for high game and second high total of 490 ....Doc Yerg's 495 was top block of three....Tonight the Allens will try to slow up the Trevenens, tied with the Yergs for second place.

The Butter Krusts, determined to work their way into an Industrial League roll-off, took a step in that direction by taking all four from the champion Babcock Barbers and shoved the losers into third place, behind the N. F. O Heat Treat team which copped a sweep from the Struthers-Wells crew.....The Times-Mirror pulled out of the cellar with a three-pointer at the expense of Millie's Inn, and the Forge Shop and Warren Billiard Academy divided.... There were no games which reached the honor roll level, Tingwall's 208 being the closest.....Tom Saraceno rolled 555 for high total.

MEHL SUGGESTS PLAN TO CRACK MILE RUN MARK

New York, Feb. 4—(AP)—A firm believer in the theory that races should be run for victories, and not records, Walter Mehl proposed today a plan whereby both objectives could be achieved in a single mile race.

Winner of two banked-track miles before he lost to Les MacMitchell on a flat floor in Jersey City last night, Mehl's idea is that one of the big meet promoters should restrict his mile field to the four top men, and that those four should make a deal.

The four would be Mehl, MacMitchell, John Munski and Chuck Fenske. They are the class of the field. The Deal would be for each man to agree to set a fast pace for two laps. That would bring them through eight laps. For the last three, it would be every man strictly for himself, with Glenn Cunningham's competitive 4:07.4 mark very much in danger.

Without an arrangement like that, the blend from Wisconsin doesn't see how there's likely to be anything close to a record mile this indoor season.

"As it is now, the four of us are much too evenly matched," he explained. "None of us wants to set the pace—you saw that in the Wanamaker Mile last Saturday—because we know it would be too dangerous to let any one of the four get away to a long lead. After al, we're all in this game primarily to win, and to do that we're not going to be much bothered about the time, no matter how some of the customers may feel about it."

Sports Round-up

New York, Feb. 4—Tie-It-and-Wear-It Dept.: There are two sets of twins on the Michigan State College wrestling squad. . . . Bill Terry is supposed to be dickering with the Cardinals for Don Padgett. . . . Lou Ambers' debut as a welterweight will be made against Norment Quarles at Hartford. . . . From the way he looked at the baseball writers' dinner, Babe Ruth has tossed Old Man Flu for a total loss. . . . Well, here's another racing headache—Magnificent, the Kentucky Derby hopeful of Mrs. E. Graham Lewis (Elizabeth Arden), pulled up lame after stepping a mile at Santa Anita the other day. . . Ace Parker is just about ready to break the bad news—to the baseball Pirates or the football Dodgers.

Today's Guest Star

Jerry Mitchell, New York Post: "Bob Feller's control should be even better this year. . . . He's been finding the plate regularly in the winter banquet league."

Tattle Tales

Clearwater, Fla., which lost the Dodgers to Havana, is trying to lure the Cleveland Indians away from Fort Myers, and the chamber of commerce there had better hold a meeting right now. . . . Not all the highly publicized football stars have fine cases of swelled domes. . . . Take Charlie O'Rourke of Boston College, for instance. . . We know a fellow who wrote him a letter wishing him luck in the Sugar Bowl game—and who got a mighty courteous reply in the next mail. . . . Followers of boxing who are interested in seeing Florida come through with a state commission should write to Tom Ephrem, 605 W. Forsyth St., Jacksonville.

It will help put the bill through the legislature. . . . All good baseball fans will be glad to learn Bill Stewart has signed up to call 'em in the National League next summer—and at more pay, to boot.

Red Face Dept.

The other day, Mr. Ted Carpenter, Marquette's demon drum beater, put out a statement that the 1941 football schedule was being held up because of a conflict on one important date. . . . What Mr. Carpenter forgot to add was that Marquette had scheduled Iowa State on October 11. . . . If anybody has any suggestions, Athletic Director Conrad M. Jennings will appreciate them.

Sports Cocktail

Clyde McBride, sports editor of the famous Kansas City Star, went to California to cover the Rose Bowl game and has been there ever since. . . . What a soft life some of these sports editors live! . . . It has been more than two full seasons since the Midland College basketball team has been held to fewer than 30 points in one game. . . . SPORT SCATTERINGS
by BILL RICE

One of our friendly critics again took issue with us this week on our so-called haw-hawing at the feats of Joseph Barrow Louis, and let us hastily correct the impression we may have given in an unguarded paragraph. Our contention is that the current heavyweight boss is a far better man than any of those he has fought, but that he comes nowhere near being the best heavy of all times. Louis is lucky in being born either twenty years too late or twenty years too soon, for there can hardly be a denial of the flat statement that first rate competition has yet to be proffered. As a matter of fact, Red Burman, who last Friday night stood up for a little over four rounds before succumbing to a pile-driver body blow, may possibly have been the best fighter Louis has been called upon to meet. He, at least, had the courage to sail in and make a battle of it. Pastor stayed the limit on one occasion and twelve rounds again, but Bob climbed on his bicycle and never stopped pedalling. Arturo Godoy hung around for the route by the simple expedient of walking around on his hands and knees in the accepted missing link fashion, mixing this strategy with a fair exhibition of the bunny hug. Tommy Farr, who never won a fight in this country, also went the route.

Who among you wants to stick out his neck and claim that Pastor, Farr and Godoy are, or were, great fighting men? It would seem to us that if Louis is the greatest of all time he would have put these babies to sleep early in the game. Tunney would have caught up to Bob Pastor in jig time and either forced him to come out and fight or chased him until Bob's tongue hung out and he was an easy mark for a kayo. Tom Heeney was as durable as Farr, but Tunney made gravel out of the Hard Rock from Down Under. Either Dempsey or Tunney would have caught Senor Godoy in that crouch, presented him with an uppercut that would have driven out his gold fillings and then, having straightened him up, would have quickly laid him among the sweet peas. Perhaps we are attacking this from the wrong angle. It is entirely possible, but not very probable, that the very calibre of the opposition has been a handicap to Joe. Perhaps he has come to hold all opponents so lightly that he has sometimes waited until too late to begin his lethal work. His opposition for the balance of the winter consists of Gus Dorazio, Abe Simon and, more's the pity, Arturo Godoy. Come then Billy Conn and Lou Nova. If Conn doesn't outpoint him, Joseph might just as well hang 'em up and retire undefeated.

We read quite a little piece the other day about a young man by the name of Alf Anderson. Mr. Anderson, sun, hails from the Atlanta Crackers, via the University of Georgia and Savannah, and reckons as how he can give Arky Vaughan a little argument about that little old shortstoppin' job on the Pirate club this season. Mr. Frankie Frisch would be most pleased to find someone who could take over Vaughan's duties at the short field post, for Arky all too often folds up at the crucial spots, and wastes time getting the ball away and is not averse to giving the bounding sphere the old soccer treatment. However, Vaughan is a power at bat and has held his job through his punch with the willow and the fact that a better shortstop hasn't been available. Nothing would delight Fordham Frankie more than to grab a capable sub for Arky and find another regular berth for his slugging, erratic fielding shortstop. Anderson hit .350 for Atlanta last year, .331 for Savannah the year before and .360 in Class D ball in 1938. He has one weakness afield—he is so fast he is inclined to overrun the ball, which would be at least a novelty in the Pirate infield.

YEARS AGO IN SPORT

February 4, 1921—The Nameless Five have really put Warren on the map. Every day one reads in papers from other communities of the feats of this great basketball team, and this city owes the team much gratitude for advertising our town throughout the section, as did the Butter-Krusts in baseball.

February 4, 1931—Efforts are being made to match the Yes Gas Station quintet and the Merchants, both of whom are representing this city in independent basketball. While the Yes Gas has a much greater record and is playing to bigger crowds, there are those who believe the Archibaldmen could give them quite a battle.

PATTERSONS TO WITHDRAW FROM COURT CIRCUIT

Manager "Chink" Collins, evidently disgusted with the lack of cooperation on the part of some of his players who won't turn out for out-of-town games, announced this morning that the Pattersons will not play in the Allegheny Mountain Conference.

Tonight's game with Emporium and Friday night's tilt with the Sheffield Penn Bottles have been cancelled. However, the Pattersons will play the Franklin C. P. T. team here Friday night. Last night the Franklin quint hobbled the crippled Pattersons, 53-37.

Next Monday the Pattersons will entertain the Franklin Chaconas on the "Y" court.

LEAHY SIGNS FOR FIVE YEARS AT B. C.

Boston, Feb. 4—(AP)—The football destinies of Boston College will rest for the next five years in the hands of youthful Frank Leahy, whose old contract was torn up by the college authorities after his outstanding two-year record as coach of the Eagles. The contract had another year to run.

The signing of the new document, which calls for a substantial salary increase, was announced by Graduate Director John P. Curley last night. His announcement came after rumors had circulated that Leahy would go to Notre Dame to fill the position vacated by Elmer Layden, who will become commissioner of the National Professional Football League March 1.

SUNBURY FRANCHISE SOLD TO HAGERSTOWN

Hagerstown, Md., Feb. 4—(AP)—Transfer of the Sunbury, Pa., franchise in the Class B Inter-State League to Hagerstown for the 1941 season has been announced by Owner Oren E. Sterling.

Sterling said last night the transfer would be approved at a meeting of the league Thursday in Philadelphia. Final papers will be signed Sunday.

number of Democrats would line up with a majority of House Republicans in voting for such amendments on Thursday and Friday, but administration lieutenants remained confident that the bill would pass without any changes which they did not favor.

In the Senate, where the foreign relations committee was continuing hearings on the measure, some Republican quarters heard that Willkie would have a series of changes to offer next week. There was uncertainty, however, whether these would be the same as those he listed when he endorsed the bill in principle, or whether he would have additional ones.

Opening of House debate yesterday and the simultaneous Senate committee hearings both produced disputes on these points:

Would the legislation carry the United States closer to war?

Would the Axis powers try to invade this country, if victorious?

Norman Thomas, four times Socialist candidate for president, told the Senate group the bill heightened the danger that "we shall find ourselves in total war."

Decrying the possibility of German invasion of the United States, he said:

"Even if you allow him many years, I do not think it will be easy for Hitler, in the unhappy event of a victory over Great Britain, to organize a sullen, half-starved Europe, with a jealous Stalin at his rear, to conquer the western hemisphere."

Thomas followed former Governor Philip La Follette of Wisconsin, who testified that in March, 1939—6 months before the war's start — Edouard Daladier, then premier of France, told him that France expected the United States to come to her aid with money, materials and men.

LaFollette scorned invasion fears as "hysterical."

During the House debate, however, Rep. Luther Johnson (D-Tex) and Rep. Charles I. Faddis (D-Pa), among others, argued that this country faced the menace of invasion should Great Britain be defeated.

Nazi Subs Increase Activities

On the north African front, the British reported last night their bombers had carried out violent attacks on the coastal road from captured Derna to Bengasi and on the area around the important west Libyan port of Tripoli, 400 air miles to the west.

Reports from East Africa indicated the British offensive was being speeded there in an attempt to crush Italian resistance before March, when sweltering heat and torrential spring rains might hold up operations.

Further Italian reverses were reported on the Albanian battlefront, where the Greeks said they had gained control of the strategically-important Trebeshina mountain range north of Klisura. Italian counter attacks on Greek positions there were said to have failed.

G. O. P. Minority in House to Ask Dems To Introduce Bills

ly, other developments in the legislature included:

1. Declaring Governor James "short-changed" relief, Democratic Floor Leader Leo A. Achterman introduced a bill in the house to appropriate $210,000,000 for public assistance in the next two years.

2. The senate passed, 32 to 15, and sent to the house a bill to continue and reorganize the Joint State Government Commission.

3. The senate confirmed Richard Maize, of Uniontown, as secretary of mines.

4. Tightening of municipal authority laws was sought in five bills prompted by sale of the Chester Water Company, which brought a grand jury investigation and indictment of a dozen persons.

5. Howard L. Russell, secretary of public assistance, replied to a senate request for information with the assertion that the $2,000 bond required of property owners as a relief requirement should be continued.

6. The house received a variety of bills designed to increase old age pensions and to investigate possible subversive teachings in public schools.

Accompanying a printed explanation of his budget with a 15-minute speech to a joint session of the house and senate last night, James declared:

"By lowering relief appropriations and raising tax estimates, it would be possible to create an apparent spread between income and needs which would permit cutting taxes during this session.

"However, I wish to assure both this legislature and the men and women of the commonwealth that the taxpayers will receive the full benefit of any such improvement in financial conditions. If at any time during my term as governor it becomes clear that our estimates are too conservative and that our tax receipts will substantially exceed our needs, I will take immediate steps to correct our financial program and cut taxes accordingly, even if a special session for that purpose should be necessary."

For running regular government departments James asked $342,496,186, representing the general fund. Of this amount he suggested $131,390,000 for relief and $211,000,000 for other state purposes, leaving a balance of $82,000,000.

From the balance, the governor said, $66,000,000 borrowed from other funds to finance relief would be returned, while $5,000,000 represented a deficiency appropriation, most of which was spent to aid distressed school districts.

For special funds not used for ordinary governmental functions, James listed $181,000,000 for the motor license fund, raised from gasoline taxes for highway improvement; and $8,000,000 for flood control, fish and game, banking, farm show, forests and waters and milk control.

Relief costs in the current biennium mounted to $208,000,000, but have been declining since early in 1940. James said he expected industrial improvement and the national defense program to cut the rate from the current $7,000,000 a month to $5,000,000.

James recommended deficiency appropriations of $19,451,171 including $14,500,000 to carry relief from March 5, when present money is expected to be exhausted. The relief funds would be obtained by borrowing $6,500,000 from the motor fund and using a balance of $8,000,000 which the governor said would be available from the general fund.

He suggested the usual $188,000,000 appropriation for the Pennsylvania National Guard but asked that it be set aside as an "emergency defense fund" for use if a home guard is needed.

For the Justice Department an increase of $100,000 was asked for an investigation of "subversive activities."

Subsidies for state-aided hospitals and homes would remain unchanged, James said.

He asked $300,000 for the department of state to permit Pennsylvanians in military training camps to vote; $99,000 to hire additional parole agents, and said $67,300,000 would be available in the motor fund to relieve traffic "bottlenecks" in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

James proposed increases of $1,246,000 for the department of health; $100,000 for labor and industry; $37,000 to the department of mines; $95,000 to property and supplies; $3,000,000 to public instruction; $1,000,000 to welfare for maintenance of the industrial home for boys at White Hall, and $1,750,000 for the Western Psychiatric Hospital at Pittsburgh.

The governor reiterated his desire to defer for two years state maintenance and operation of county mental hospitals.

Philadelphia, Feb. 4—(AP)—Chairman Leon L. Rains of the State Athletic Commission said today that personal reasons are behind a proposal made in the legislature by Senators H. Jerome Jaspan and Anthony J. Disilvestro for an investigation of the commission.

Saying he would welcome an inquiry Rains added:

"Jaspan is after me because I won't let him have two free tickets to all the Philadelphia fights. He told me last year that if I didn't put him back on the complimentary ticket list, he would introduce a resolution for an investigation x x x."

Rains said Gus Dorazio, Philadelphia Italian who will meet Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis here February 17 in a title match, is "as good as any of the present crop of heavyweights."

Russell

Russell, Feb. 4—Mrs. Martha Jones Anderson of Cassadaga, N. Y., spent the weekend at the Gregory home and with Mrs. Mabel Hale.

employed aged, and would have to be spent within 30 days for goods, commodities and services. Not more than 15 per cent could be spent with religious or charitable organizations.

The money needed to finance such a pension would be raised by legalizing lotteries, horse racing and slot machines and by taxing the gross receipts of business, and commercial and financial transactions. The bill embodying the proposal was presented by Representatives Baker and Heatherington, Allegheny Democrats.

in the fire was authorized.

In the report of A. J. Scalise, chairman of the street maintenance committee, it was pointed out that damage to the borough street sweeper in the fire was not covered by insurance. The committee was authorized to spend not in excess of $500 for repairs to the sweeper.

The new projects committee, headed by D. W. Lewis, was authorized to purchase sewer pipe for the South Side sanitary sewer, to cost not more than $500, and pipe for the Morrison street storm sewer in the same amount.

Councilman Hampson reported on the inquiry into the Board of Health by a special council committee, which also includes C. A. Miller and R. H. Trusler. This committee was instructed to continue its work and report at the March meeting.

In connection with the fire at the municipal garage, Councilman Scalise recommended that a new shed be built and that the heating system there be altered. Chairman Frank Willard, of the committee, was asked to look into these matters.

In the police report, Chairman DeFrees reported total receipts of $814.33 from the parking meters during January, with $248.39 being applied on the purchase price of the latest installation.

The fire committee submitted the annual report of Chief Douglas G. Kropf for 1940. It was reported that in January, this year, the department answered 24 calls, with a total fire loss of $4,694.41.

Upon motion by Councilman Willard, the building committee was authorized to purchase a circulating heater for the Central Fire Station at a cost of $153.95.

After it had been pointed out that a member of the borough council could not also act as a member of the Board of Health, the resignation of Councilman Krebs as a member of the health board was accepted and the appointment of Manley R. Overturf for a five year term by President F. W. Waite was confirmed.

It was announced that the annual convention of the state association of boroughs will be held in Harrisburg on February 27 and 28 and March 1. The president of council was authorized to appoint a committee of three to attend the meeting.

Councilmen attending the meeting included President F. W. Waite, R. M. Krebs, C. A. Miller, G. H. Klinestiver, J. H. DeFrees, E. W. Patchen, P. A. Mahaffy, F. C. Willard, W. R. Walsh, D. L. Baldensperger, R. H. Morrison, P. C. Braunschweiger, A. J. Scalise, H. S. Hampson, D. W. Lewis and W. H. Murphy.

Others in attendance included Burgess R. W. Steber, Solicitor S. D. Blackman, Secretary Marjorie L. Dougherty, Borough Engineer C. W. Barwis, Street Commissioner E. T. Beck and Fire Chief D. G. Kropf.

MOTHER, BABE KILLED

Pittsburgh, Feb. 4—(AP)—A terrific head-on collision of two automobiles on the three-lane route 51 highway yesterday killed Mrs. Rosaline Hodgson, 36, and her 17-months-old son who was sitting in her lap in the front seat of one of the machines.

The mother and baby were hurled through the windshield of their car. The husband and father of the two, Arthur T. Hodgson, 36, branch manager of an Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company store, suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries.

There are more companies manufacturing food-stuffs in the United States than any other product.

Corydon

Corydon, Feb. 3—The young people's meeting was held Friday night with the Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Shoff. There were over twenty present. Election of officers took place, resulting in Mrs. Shoff being elected president of the society; Miss Lucille Schuler, vice president; Mrs. Luce, of South Valley, secretary and treasurer. Following the business meeting various games furnished diversion, and refreshments were served. Miss Suzanne Akers, of Warren, was an out of town guest.

Mrs. Herbert Williams was hostess last Thursday afternoon to members of the Women's Society of Christian Service. The business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. J. K. Crooks. The program was omitted owing to the absence of the program chairman, thus a social time ensued. The supper-luncheon followed. This week's meeting will be held with Mrs. George Black.

A much better attendance was reported at the second meeting of the Bundles for Britain project. Considerable work was taken up and accomplished in the way of dressmaking and blankets. The meetings are held at the school house Friday of each week, resuming throughout the day.

The Popcorn Club members and invited guests met with Mrs. R. J. Clawson. Three tables of five hundred were in play during the afternoon. On conclusion the hostess gave prizes for various scores.

An entertaining and well attended W. C. T. U. meeting convened recently at the home of Mrs. B. M. Stoltz.

Charles Clawson, spending the past five weeks in Detroit, Mich., has returned to his home here.

Suzanne Akers, of Warren, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Akers.

Miss Margaret Luce has returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Black.

Leslie Pierce, of Salamanca spending a three day vacation with Mr. and Mrs. James R. B. Caldwell has returned home.

Lucille Schuler returned to Warren Sunday evening following the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fair.

Miss Teressa Marsh, Kane, spent the weekend at her home here.

Mrs. C. D. Sutherland was a visitor Sunday of Mrs. Nora Crooks.

Miss Lucia Browne, ill the past ten days, is reported improved.

Miss Rebecca Williams, Kinzua High School student, is improved after being confined by illness.

F. D. Rogers visited Bradford relatives during the recent weekend.

The Rev. Wayne Price, of Kinzua, was a visitor here last Thursday.

Mrs. L. T. Learn has returned from a recent visit in Warren.

CHURCH HOLDING ANNUAL SESSION AT YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Feb. 4 The annual meeting of Saron Lutheran church will be held this evening. This business meeting of the church was postponed because of the illness of the pastor, Rev. Wallace Johnson, and will be held in the class room of the church.

The Saron Lutheran Bible Class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rydbjhn on Thursday evening. The devotional and business session were in charge of the president, Miss Lillian Swanson. The study period, considering the life of Samuel, was conducted by C. E. Anderson.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Kronlm on Second street. The topic to be studied will be "Paul's First Missionary Journey."

YOUTH KILLED

Louis Wojtowicz, who was killed in Chicago last Thursday by coming in contact with a 4,000-volt electric cable, was known to a number in Youngsville. His two sisters, Miss Estella Wojtowicz and Miss Josephine Wojtowicz, were both graduates from the Youngsville High School.

DINNER MEETING

The monthly dinner meeting of the Methodist church school board was held Monday evening at the church. A delicious co-operative ham dinner was enjoyed, with Mrs. Ransom and Mrs. Clayton Young acting as hostesses.

Rev. Dwight Jack conducted the business session which followed. It was voted to extend the contest of the Red and Blue until Easter in the Sunday school. Sickness has lessened the church school attendance and in order to give more time for the captains and managers to work in, the period was extended.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Plans for Holy Week services, and probably a longer period, were made at the Methodist official board meeting Monday evening. Dr. J. A. Galbraith, district superintendent, has promised to assist in these services and will be the speaker on Easter. It is expected that there will be other out of town ministers who will assist the pastor, Rev. Reed.

MINE FALLS KILL TWO

Pottsville, Feb. 4 (AP)—Separate mine accidents cost the lives of two men here Monday.

Thomas [illegible], 21, of Newtown, was killed when a coal mine fall in the [illegible] Hill colliery near Ashland. Luts[illegible], 55, of Shenandoah, [illegible] to death in the Hammond mine.

ATTORNEY DIES

Paths[illegible], Feb. 4 (AP)—Philipp[illegible] William Miller, 81, attorney, member of a pioneer Pennsylvania family and [illegible] Princeton University football star, died here today. A classmate of President Wilson at Princeton, he was a classmate of [illegible]

MORE MEN MAY BE ENROLLED IN LOCAL COMPANY

In order to bring Company I, local unit of the 112th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, to full peacetime strength of 144 men, an additional 24 men can be added to present total, it was revealed today by officers of the company. The present strength of the company is 90 officers and men.

Twenty commanding officers of units in the 112th Regiment, including Capt. Roy P. Miskinion, of Company I, attended a special session at Kane Sunday, called by Col. Joseph R. Carvalth, of Bradford, regimental commander.

It was stated that approximately [illegible] can be added to the regiment prior to federal induction on [illegible] 17. However, no enlistments can be taken in the units [illegible] they are inducted into federal service. The officers were [illegible] to familiarize men on selective service lists of the advantages of enlisting in the Pennsylvania National Guard units.

Normally, the units are at what is termed "maintenance" strength but have been authorized to "peacetime" strength for the duration of the emergency. At the units reach [illegible] on or about February 28, their lists will be completed to a strength of 216 from men assigned from selective service lists.

As units are inducted into service on February 17, they will be stationed at local armories for a ten-day period which will be devoted to marches, basic drills, physical examinations and general conditioning. Those failing to pass physical examination will automatically be discharged, it was explained.

Locally, men residing in Warren will sleep at their homes but will eat and remain with Company I throughout the day until departure for Indiantown Gap. Those from out of town who are members of the local company will be quartered in the state armory here.

It was stated that special arrangements are being made to feed the men as a result of sending the local mess sergeant and four cooks to Indiantown Gap on the day of federal induction to attend a 10-day school.

GASSED VETERAN SOUNDS ALARM

Philadelphia, Feb. 4 (AP)—A World War veteran, who was gassed in 1918, was recovering in a hospital today from gas fumes which affected 16 men in a machine shop. Before his screams brought fellow workers to the rescue.

The veteran, Paul Gilliams, 40, first noticed the gas seeping from two open burners and sounded the alarm a moment before several of the men toppled to the floor. Workers from other departments threw open windows and then aided in getting the men to a hospital where all were treated and released except Gilliams and Thomas Dujiornes, 23.

"AND HE DIED"

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHWEIGER of The Mullen Drug Co.

Many life stories close too soon. "And he died" all too often is the phrase bespeaking an untimely death, ending a life of usefulness, wiping out years of honor, happiness and value.

An occasional visit to his doctor's office could have prolonged the life span of many a man. He was too busy, impatient of his own ailments, discounting them as of no importance. Accumulated neglect, a crisis comes, the attenuated hold on life loosens—"and he died" closes the chapter.

Take time out to visit your doctor, certainly once a year, for a routine examination. Refer all his prescriptions to a qualified druggist.
